WGS Welcome

Welcome to the new e-Bulletin. I hope each one of you have had a great first quarter of 2016. As I sit here in the Genealogy Room, I think of all the hard work that many of you have done in the past 48-years. Whether in the house in a living room or the downstairs in the Old Library, many hours and nights were invested in launching and sustaining the Genealogy Room. If you have helped inquirers find ancestors, served in an office in the Society, hauled Heritage books around in the back of your car, driven to Raleigh for land grants, or acquired other artifacts that are now a part of the collection, a big “thank you” goes to you for making the Genealogy Room happen!

Now, as we begin our 49th year, many things have changed since our humble beginning in 1967. We now have free Ancestry.com, free Family Search, free Family Tree Maker, and free Heritage Quest on the dedicated computer in the Genealogy Room and on all computers in the Wilkes County Library’s computer lab. A big thank you goes to the Library staff—County Librarian Julia Turpin; Mara Lynn Tugman; Wendy Barber, and Brigett Adams—for all you do to enhance our efforts. Last but not least, welcome the new editor of the Bulletin, Mr. Larry Griffin. I am sure Larry or anyone on his team would appreciate any assistance you can give. One last request, please keep our president, Christy Harrold, in your prayers as she is recovering from surgery.

Thank you! Roger Wingler, Vice President

N.C. 26th Troops

The 26th North Carolina was no different than any other regiment in the Civil War. The men from Companies C and D were some of Wilkes County's finest men and boys of 1861, and the more prominent family names can be found in the rosters of many North Carolina regiments.

Everyone north or south thought the war would be over in three months. No one ever dreamed it would last four years and would cost over 650,000 to 700,000 men's lives, based on new records that are coming out daily. These men from Wilkes County had never heard of places like Malvern Hill, Virginia, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, Wilderness, or the Spotsylvania Court House. For some of the men, they would never have seen the mountains of the Blue Ridge or the mighty Yadkin River. For some, the prisons of the north—such as Point Lookout, Maryland, and Davids Island and Elmira, both in New York—became names that the boys and men would never forget.

This article is a list of the boys and men that were wounded, killed, died, or deserted as listed in the North Carolina Troops, Volume 7.

The Story from Greenhorn Road in 1917

Jason Duncan

jason@webjmd.com

Back in 2001, Wilma Jean Reynolds shared this picture of Clemmie Blackburn Brown with me. It belongs to her sister-in-law who is a great-granddaughter of Clemmie. Clemmie is also the first cousin of Jean's great-grandmother. When she first showed me the picture, we talked about the fact that the picture was torn, and we wondered who might have been in the rest of the picture, but of course we had no way of knowing at the time.

Mary Clementine (Clemmie) Blackburn was born in 1887, the daughter of Newt Blackburn and Rachel Buchanan. The Blackburn family lived at the western end of Greenhorn Road, near New Light Baptist Church. Clemmie married Hardin Brown in 1904. The 1910 and 1920 censuses list Clemmie living on Greenhorn Road.

Fast forward fifteen years to 2016 when I was visiting a cousin in Traphill who had several old pictures to share of the Abshers, Richardsons, and Prevettes. One of them was a picture that my cousin identified as Luther Pevette and his wife Nannie Jane Richardson (see photo on the next page). She didn't know who the lady on the right was. It was after I got home that I realized I had seen it before. It was the missing portion of the picture of Clemmie. Finally, all three were identified.

Both the 1910 and 1920 censuses list Luther Pevette on Greenhorn Road. He was born in 1894, the son of Daniel Hort Pevette and Mary Mahaffey. On July 25, 1917, Luther married Nannie Jane Richardson. I believe the picture might have been at their wedding or at a celebration in honor of their recent marriage. According to the marriage register, they were married by A. Wiles, a Justice of the Peace, at his office.

Clemmie Blackburn Brown (1887-1985)

Notice in the picture that Luther appears to be wearing an Army uniform. On June 5, 1917, Luther signed up for draft registration as all men of military age were required to do during the Great War. At that time, he was not yet married, and he asked for an exemption due to the need to support his mother. However, on October 5, 1917 at 5:30 pm, Luther reported for military duty in Columbia, SC. He was there for four more days when he was rejected for mobilization camp on October 9, 1917. Perhaps being rejected for camp meant he didn't need to serve and that he got to stay home. A later document suggests that he eventually did serve in the Army from May 1918 until the following December.

These pictures have been added to my website that now includes over 1,500 pictures from Wilkes County: <http://webjmd.com/pics/album-all.html>

Nannie Jane Richardson (1900-1992), Luther J. Pevette (1894-1972), and Clemmie Blackburn Brown (1887-1985). Notice a child peeking out between Luther and Clemmie.
